"To all students who shall here learn to earn a living and to live a cultured life, not as two processes, but as one . . . ." Because the University seeks to combine two processes to educate the "whole" man, this 1965 TOMAHAWK has two divisions—the first is the "informal" educational experience, which shows the student's social associations with others; the second, the "formal," depicts those experiences which are gained in the classroom, the laboratory, the office and the library.

The student's academic life is enriched by his social activities. Because these activities are planned on a month-to-month basis, this book depicts each month as a chapter in the story of a University year, beginning March 1, 1964.

"... And I charge you, O Men, for the love you bear to women—as I perceive by your simpering none of you hates them—that between you and the women the play may please." And so the year began with "As You Like It." Presented March 5-7, under the direction of Dr. Edwin Clark, the play was one of a series of events recognizing the quadricentennial of the birth of William Shakespeare. Leading cast members were Mike Kisgen, Susan Johnson, Merle Reiff, Johnny Ray Gomez and Bob Larson.

Professor A. L. Rowse, Visiting Distinguished Professor, spoke at the annual Honors Convocation March 13. The University's top scholars heard him reveal the "Prospects of America in Twentieth Century Civilization."

The March Honors Convocation cited two winners. They are Charles D. Fritch, who won the Philip Sher Essay Contest for his paper on "Racial and Religious Mutual Respect," and David Hoffman, winner of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Award. Others honored were members of Corinthians, scholastic honorary for juniors and seniors.

Phi Eta Sigma is a freshman men's honorary. The requirements for membership is a 3.5 grade average for the first semester, or a 3.5 accumulative average for both semesters.

Alpha Lambda Delta is the corresponding organization for freshmen women.

The works of seven students and two Art Department faculty members were displayed in the Omaha Associated Artists Show April 6-24 on campus. Omaha University students displayed talent in another area at the Nebraska State Debate Tournament held at Wayne State College. Anne MacLeod won first place in the women's division of original oratory. Fred Elsasser won first place in the men's division, same category.

"The process of education should be based on creating an awareness of ourselves and the world in which we live." Governor Frank Morrison challenged Greeks to be fully awake to the potential of today's world at the annual Greek Help Week banquet March 13.

Active winner of the Panhellenic scholarship award among the women was Diane Mahoney of Alpha Xi Delta. Pledge winner with the highest average was Delores Hurlburt of Sigma Kappa. The fraternity awards went to active John McKernan of Delta Rho Gamma and pledge Rodney Roenfeldt of Pi Kappa Alpha. Kristy Isaacson, Chi Omega, and Michael Mench, Pi Kappa Alpha, received the outstanding pledge awards.

Two hundred journalism students and advisors, representing Omaha area high schools, attended Omaha U's annual high school journalism conference March 19. The agenda included a panel discussion by OU grads now working in the media, a banquet and the awarding of medals to students for their winning contest entries.

The Omaha University choir, under the direction of John Miller, presented a concert of voices in tune with the Easter season March 25 in the University auditorium. All classes were dismissed for the convocation.

OU's Trackmen finished the season unbeaten in dual and triangular competition. Roger Sayers won the special 100-meter dash at the Kansas meet and was second to world-record-holder Henry Carr at Drake. Terry Williams tied the world sixty-yard dash mark indoors when he ran :06.0 and was fifth in the NAIA 200-meter dash at Sioux Falls. Ken Gould broke OU records in the mile, 2-mile, 1500-meters and indoor 880 yard dash. OU placed fourth in both indoor and outdoor CIC competition.

Linda Peterson was named Honorary Colonel at the AFROTC Military Ball April 3 at Peony Park. Honorary Lieutenant Colonels attending Linda were JoAnn Vander Stoep, Earlene Timm and Jan Meyers Taylor.

The dance is presented annually by the Arnold Air Society.

Campus athletes were honored at the 3rd Annual All-Sports Banquet April 26. Jack Payne was host. President Milo Bail was presented with three trophies for the University, including the CIC football and baseball awards and the NAIA track runner-up trophy. Wayne Backes and Roger Sayers were named as the Alumni Athletes of the Year. Jack Peterson was honored as the Alumni Scholar Athlete of the Year. Wayne Backes came back to accept the Outstanding Lineman of the Year award and three All-American awards. End Mike Dibiase was named the Outstanding First Year Man on the football team. Basketball awards went to Sam Singleton, Most Valuable Player, and Larry Villnow, Most Improved Player. Jimmy Jones won the Ken Bristol MV wrestler trophy and was honorary wrestling captain for the past season. The Most Improved Wrestler award was given to Rich Tomasek, and the Best First Year Man was Gerry Shook. Sayers was honored for winning the NAIA's championship in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes during the season.

"We're going to travel fast and far tonight because we have a world to girdle and cross in less than two hours—the fabulous world of Carl Sandburg." Presented April 23-25 by the University Theater, each performance prompted a responsive house. Under the direction of Dr. Edwin Clark, "The World of Carl Sandburg" was a production easily adapted to the tastes of all. Readers Merle Reiff, Mike Kisgen and Russell Mullens interpreted a selection of the famous American's works.

Twenty-six journalism students were honored at the annual Journalism Awards Banquet April 27. Guest speaker was Frank Scott, KBON Program Director and a 1954 graduate. He was awarded a plaque as the outstanding journalism alum of 1964. The Omaha Press Club presented Roger Prai with the Walter Panko, Jr., Memorial Scholarship and a check for $100. Marilou Thibault was given the Zeta Tau Alpha award for contributing the most to student publications during the year. Bill Grow was named Outstanding Journalism Student. Twenty-six students won bronze, silver and gold keys for their service on publication staffs.

Alpha Epsilon Pi sponsored their first annual AE Pi Throw April 17 in the Field House. One thousand whipped cream pies were hurled at dubiously-honored candidates of the Greek organizations and ISA. Students paid twenty-five cents a throw to smear their "favorite" candidates. Winners, and obviously best targets, were Malanie Jeub of Zeta Tau Alpha and Larry Foreman of Pi Kappa Alpha. Proceeds were sent to the Olympic Fund.

Virgil Yelkin's baseball team compiled another outstanding record, winning 18 of 20 contests and a sixth straight CIC baseball title. The Indian club won the NAIA Area 3 South playoffs and were beaten by Mayville State in the Area playoff. OU's two defeats came in the season's last two games. Strongarm Larry Krehbiel led the pitchers in nearly every category and Wayne Backes led the team's regular hitters. The season showed possibly the best mound staff ever, with pitchers Larry Krehbiel, Frank Pecha, Ken McEwen and Jim Butler. OU's Judy Eichhorn was selected as the 1964 College World Series Queen. She presided over the series at the Municipal Stadium June 8-12.

An inspection of the AFROTC program by President Milo Bail and recognition of outstanding cadets is the annual President's Day Review. Held May 1, the occasion was highlighted by the traditional AFROTC picnic in Elmwood Park for the cadets and Angels.

Ma-ie Day was a windy success from sun to sun. Events began at 7:30 with a sunrise dance and breakfast in the Student Center. At 9:30 students gathered to watch the crowning of Princess Attira XXX, Earlene Timm of Chi Omega. Her attendants were Jan Moravec, Alpha Xi Delta; Georgia Ruby, Sigma Kappa, and Malanie Jeub, Zeta Tau Alpha. A parade through downtown Omaha climaxed the morning's activities. An informal lunch was served on the women's P.E. field and was followed by games and the crowning of the Biggest Idiot of the Day. May 8 ended with a dance in the Peony Park ballroom.

"They Said It Couldn't Be Done" was the theme for the Ma-ie Day float building contest. Alpha Xi Delta won the first place trophy for their train entry and the words "I Think I Can" on the side. Lambda Chi Alpha took second place for their entry depicting the fabled hare and tortoise race. Third place went to Chi Omega's ship-in-a-bottle float.

Student Council members represent the student body through "one voice." The small scale government is the voice of goals, actions and service. The University elections, Ma-ie Day, Homecoming and the annual all-school Christmas party are among the activities sponsored by the Student Council. Officers for the 1964-1965 school year were Rich Thompson, president; Johnny Gomez, vice-president; Mike Mench, treasurer; Patti Matson, secretary.

Omaha University's unbeaten baseball team will shoot to return to the NAIA national baseball tournament in its own back yard. The announcement came Wednesday that the finals of the Area 3 playoffs will be held in Rosenblatt Stadium May 29-30.

The Indians will face the winner of a weekend hassle at Mayville, North Dakota, involving Mayville State, Yankton College, Minot State, Black Hills Teachers and Eastern Montana. The survivor then goes to the national finals at St. Joseph, Missouri, June 8-12.

Area NAIA chairman Ross Armstrong of the Area made the announcement that Omaha had been scheduled for the playoff site and played the recent Area 3 youth playoffs held here. The hastily formed tournament drew good crowds and was extremely well organized on short notice.

The Omaha round robin will consist of two games on the 29th and a third, if necessary, on the 30th. It's a best of three series.

The tournament fever brings back memories of four previous OU appearances in the post season dessert series. The 1960 Indian edition took the runner-up slot to Southern University in the finals at Alpine, Texas.

A Grueling Night

The Indians finished that season with a 15-0 record and the CIO and K-M-N crowns under their belts. They polished off North Dakota State and Nebraska Wesleyan in the Area finals before getting the ticket

The scene was the 14th annual All-School Sing and tapping ceremonies on May 13, sponsored by Waakiya and Omicron Delta Kappa, senior honoraries. Pi Kappa Alpha walked away with top honors. Lambda Chi Alpha placed second; Theta Chi, third. Chi Omega retired the trophy in the women's division singing "Bidin' My Time." Alpha Xi Delta placed second and Sigma Kappa took the third place award. Following the song competition, Waakiya and ODK tapped 27 new members.

Requirements for Wakiya, senior women's honorary, are a 3.0 accumulative scholarship average and consistent participation in campus activities. Eligibility for Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's honorary, is based on academic and social recognition. New members of the two honoraries are tapped each spring at the All-School Spring Sing.

The first floor of the Student Center became a gallery for the annual Art Auction May 3. Sponsored by the Art Club, the auction proceeds are used each year to gain financial assistance for art students. A coffee hour gave prospective buyers a chance to browse. For accumulated purchases of five dollars, bidders were eligible for a drawing to win one of four works by members of the art faculty.

Senior Day, May 15, was highlighted by a presentation by Jim Pelowski, class president, of the class gift to the University. The gift, paintings by OU art students, was placed in the student organization rooms. Guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. Ralph Wardle, professor of English.

With a stadium full of proud families, President Milo Bail conferred 867 degrees to OU's largest graduating class at the 55th Commencement June 1st. Speaker Roderic B. Crane, Kayser Professor of Economics, used the effect upon mankind of increased automation as his theme. "We must begin to discover a synthesis of our vast material knowledge and that of higher wisdom," he said. A reception followed in the Student Center.

Telelecture, a viewing device, was an aid for several courses. Below, summer school students found the warm weather and air-conditioned library comfortable for study during the summer session.

A new addition to the campus are the tennis courts, completed May 1, south of the Field House. They were constructed at a cost of $20,000.

The National Science Foundation field trip took students 13 miles northwest of the campus to Glen Haven, a 160-acre farm which was deeded to the University by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allwine for the study of biological sciences.

Amidst a controversy stirred up when Congressman Glen Cunningham questioned the Board of Regents' choice, Dr. Leland Traywick was named the eighth President of Omaha University in mid-July. The 49-year-old educator succeeded President Milo Bail on February 1, coming to OU from the presidency of Southwest Missouri State College at Springfield. The controversy was over whether or not Dr. Traywick would allow a Communist to speak on campus. It died when his position was clarified at an August news conference.

"Summer Theater Workshop," under the direction of Dr. Edwin Clark, presented "Blood, Sweat, and Stanley Poole," a comedy about peace-time Army life. "An 'Evening of Avante Garde' or 'Theater of the Absurd,'" the second offering, was presented on July 30-31.

Institutes, seminars and programs utilize many University facilities during the summer months. Planned by the Conference Center staff, the conferences and workshops are open to individuals or are for specific groups and Omaha businesses.

OU enrollment reached an all-time high as 8,699 students registered for fall classes. The new IBM card system made registration a speedier process and saved staff members hours of clerical work. Parking stickers distributed at the time of registration were substituted at mid-semester because they were in violation of the state motor vehicle code. An autumn art show displayed works done by members of the Art Department.

New students to OU's campus met September 19 in the Field House for New Student Day, sponsored by the Student Council. Following a welcome by President Milo Bail, the new crop met with their deans and counselors. Upper classmen, serving as hosts and hostesses, acquainted the new students with the layout and policies of Omaha University.

The four sororities on campus participated in formal rush activities held September 12-16. Following a get-acquainted tea, rushees attended a party given by each group. Rushees received invitations to return to the evening parties. September 17 each girl indicated her preference in the Student Organization Room. An Inter-fraternity Smoker preceded formal rush for male students September 14. Following a week of activities, rushees received notification of pledging.

Members of the faculty congregate for luncheon and a meeting.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL: FIRST ROW: Delores Hurlburt, Barb Keast, Phyllis Faasse. SECOND ROW: Mary Lynn Rhoads, Pam Smith, Marjorie Scott.

Panhellenic Council is an organization composed of two representatives from each of the four sororities on campus. Its object is to promote good relations among sororities and to create inter-sorority activities. Two representatives from each sorority pledge class are chosen to serve in Junior Panhellenic Council. Members of Junior Panhellenic Council are FIRST ROW: Noel Weimer, Sandy Burdick, Sharon VanVoohis, Marsha Mefford. SECOND ROW: Sue Hancock, Brenda Williams, Delores Hurlburt, Denie Nesvan, and Nancy Chaput.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL: FIRST ROW: Pat Halloran, Duane Mannon, John Stolley, Don McMichael, William Gerbracht, advisor.

The Interfraternity Council, composed of three representatives from the six social fraternities, organizes and controls formal rush in the fall and spring. It also cooperates with the Panhellenic Council in the planning of Greek Week each spring and each year awards a trophy to the outstanding fraternity pledge.

The Independent Student Association is a social organization of non-Greek membership. An annual project of ISA is the covering of all campus parking meters the day before Christmas vacation to allow free parking. Below, members of ISA busily prepare for this project.

Greek activities are various and sometimes violent. The "pledge skip" is greatly anticipated by the pledges, but a much dreaded sport for the active members of a fraternity. The object is a day of concentrated searching by actives for the hidden pledge class and dodging pledges for fear of being captured. Above, pledges are rewarded for their skillful deception and become actives for a day. Opposite, the organization bulletin boards in the Student Center are constant objects of interest.

“We have never towed cars away,” Rev. Lunsford said, adding he hoped he would never have to resort to this practice. Rev. Lunsford said he was glad he could render a service to the university and students in providing parking spaces close to the campus. He said students must remember the “east lot of the church and the driveways are off limits.”

He explained the east lot is reserved for church women who meet during the day and the drives must be kept clear for service and delivery trucks. The minister said signs would be posted in the next few days that would warn students of reserved or no parking zones.

Other signs to be posted will be of the temporary variety which will close the lots on days funerals are held or large church meetings are planned. Rev. Lunsford added most of the students have co-operated with church officials but the small number who do not are the ones that will be responsible for the revocation of parking privileges.

put clay or black dirt in the eroded area. It would wash out after the first heavy rain.

He said the campus has 12 truckloads—will be leveled sometime next week. Plans then are to cover the manure with dirt, thus eliminating some of the smell. But Popek warned the smell will still linger for at least another month.

In the interest of soil conservation, students should be willing to put up with the aroma. But retribution still has its merits.

Popek was one of the fans sitting in the stands last Saturday, and he will be there again tomorrow. The man responsible for the “big stink” will suffer, too.

coming Princess is a mixed experience. Campaigning was awful because I felt people thought I was only being friendly to them for one reason—their vote. But elections come and go, and it was certainly a relief to have this one end.

The greatest part of being a candidate was being in the ceremonies—the chuck wagon supper, the crowning and the dance. Most important was the crowning at the Council Fire.

Before announcing the winner a large pep rally was held. As a candidate, I didn't get to take part because I had to put on the red garment. We watched a little of the rally from inside the Conference Center.

Then came the time to go to the tent. As I waited to go through the crowd, I couldn't help but be nervous. There were a lot of people at the rally.

As my name was called, I

The dance was nice. Student Council gave us each a gift and our picture. But it couldn't compare with the crowning or the game for special excitement—the balloons, bands and alums.

The candidates had to ride around the field and be presented before the game started. After the initial temper flare-ups because of the changes made in the planned program, probably to make a disappointed or temperamental person happy, I had no chance to think of anything but the game.

The first half was exciting, but OU was behind and the team was working so hard. It was heartbreaking. The candidates had the best seats, right on the fifty yard line, so I didn't miss a play.

With half-time ceremonies coming up, I got nervous again. I don't know if the other candidates felt as lucky as I did, but my record could have been

New Sticker... Square
The need for new stickers arose after the university issued some six thousand windshield stickers that were in violation of the state motor vehicle code at the beginning of the semester.

Square Stickers
Shortly thereafter, this fact was brought to the attention of the university administration by members of the Gateway staff. The new stickers for students are square in shape and bordered in red. Except for shape they resemble closely the same permits that were issued last

The Young Democrats and the Young Republicans increased their memberships by 100 percent this year. The upsurge in interest, due to an election year, urged both political groups to active campus campaigns. The YR campaign included a car rally stopping at various eastern Nebraska towns and then a meeting at Dana College with other YR groups. The YD's published a bi-weekly newsletter for the Douglas County Central Committee. Both groups conducted a voter registration drive.

Twelve leading citizens received special recognition for their efforts in promoting, supporting and contributing to the growth of the University of Omaha. They were made charter members of "The Order of the Tower," the highest honor to be awarded by the University outside of an honorary degree.

Inter-Pep sponsored a competitive spirit contest promoted by points given to the organization for the best attendance, gimmicks and team spirit during the football season. The winners were Chi Omega for the best game attendance and Alpha Xi Delta for the most original gimmicks. Inter-Pep members, delegated by University groups and organizations, distributed copies of OU cheers and the alma mater song to fans attending the game.

Four faculty members presented an annual chamber music concert October 18 in the Conference Center Auditorium. The four who played music by Bach, Beethoven and Strauss were Mrs. James Bell, cello; Mr. Clark Mullen, piano; Mr. Kermit Peters, oboe, and Dr. James Peterson, violin.

Founders Day, October 8, was a golden affair. Three members of the class of 1914 were inducted as charter members of The Order of the Golden Tower. They are Clinton Halsey, Mrs. Mildred Foster Linn and Zela Elmer. Speaker Dean William Thompson, a 1917 graduate and faculty member until 1960, traced the history of the University. A special presentation of gilded bricks from the original Joslyn Hall was given to Dean Thompson, Harry Byrne and Judge A. C. Thomsen.

A goal of 150 pints was reached with 162 pints donated in the October 19 Blood Drive. The Newman Club won the trophy with their donation of 31 pints. Sigma Kappa took the honors in the percentage division with 86 percent donating.

Bev Grasso, Alpha Xi Delta, and Steve Sheppard, Pi Kappa Alpha, were named Typical Freshmen by a vote of their classmates October 7, following a week of campaigning. The other coeds vying for the title were Kathy Hadfield, Zeta Tau Alpha; Jill Prawl, Sigma Kappa and Lani Stockman, Chi Omega. Fraternity candidates were Dan Bender, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Steve Cathcart, Sigma Phi Epsilon; J. D. Davis, Lambda Chi Alpha; Jim Harrington, Theta Chi, and Harold Lenz, Delta Rho Gamma. A freshman mixer climaxed the day.

Senior class officers: Mike Kisgen, president; Judy Jensen, secretary; Joe Snell, vice president.

OU's history department head, Dr. A. Stanley Trickett, was one of 12 Americans chosen to be an official observer of the British National elections October 1-19 in England. He evaluated the campaign and election in a series of lectures during October and November.

Debaters representing 25 colleges and universities met at OU November 30 to compete in the 10th Annual Kickoff Speech and Debate Tournament.

Equipped with boundless energy and constant enthusiasm are OU's eight cheerleaders. Their cheers and antics are a highlight at every sports event. Another eye-catching crew, the Indiannes led by Sherrie Ulfers, is OU's female marching squad who perform during half-time shows.

A young and inexperienced 1964 Omaha U football team, stripped of 13 seniors from the 1963 CIC Champions, surprised just about everybody including their coaches. Starting as many as six sophomores and three freshmen, the OU eleven went on an early three game winning streak that counted defending small college king Northern Illinois among the victims. Pittsburg and Washburn dealt Omaha its first CIC losses in two years, but the Red and Black rebounded to whip Fort Hays State and Emporia for a runnerup spot. Scrambling Marlin Briscoe, the soph quarterback, totaled 1309 yards in total offense as he directed the OU attack. Junior Halfback Gerry Allen churned out 489 yards in six games before being sidelined with a knee injury. Allen was named to the Associated Press Little All-American squad. Briscoe, guard Harlan Aden and defensive standout Ron Stave were named to the CIC All-Star team for 1964. Aden, the lone senior, later received an added year of eligibility, thus the Indians will return an intact squad for 1965.

OU 26 NORTHERN ILLINOIS 20

In their first home appearance, the Indians showed a band day crowd that they couldn't be denied their first victory. A TD in the final minutes of the game gave OU a satisfying triumph over the defending national champs.

OU 13 MORNINGSIDE 12

The spirited Omaha line held Morningside in the closing seconds to protect its one point lead. The Indians spent most of the second half defending their goal line.

OU 29 BRADLEY 28

The explosive running of Gerald Allen and Marlin Briscoe enabled the Indians to put the game out of reach—barely. Allen rolled up 213 yards and scored three TDs while Briscoe ran for 117 yards.

OU 6 PITTSBURG STATE 14

OU couldn't recover after the Gorillas from Pittsburg State jumped off to a quick 14 point lead. Injuries to Briscoe and Allen helped stall the Indians offense, as did fumbles and pass interceptions.

OU 19 DRAKE 24

Homecoming was turned sour by the determined Drake Bulldogs. Omaha, behind at the half, fought for a 19-18 advantage with four minutes remaining in the game, but the experienced, rough Bulldogs couldn't be stopped.

OU 12 WASHBURN 19

Hopes for a third straight CIC title fell with the loss to Washburn. The Icabods turned OU miscues into victory. The Indians went to a shotgun formation effectively until pass interceptions stalled them.

OU 19 EMPORIA STATE 73

After falling behind by 13 points, OU found the road to victory. The Indians knotted the score early in the final period and took the lead with 25 seconds left in the game.

OU 33 FT. HAYES STATE 15

OU grabbed a tie for second place in the CIC by rolling up its highest score for the '64 season while dumping the Tigers. The running of Briscoe and frosh Doug Butler gave the Indians the drive they needed to close the season successfully.

The big event of Homecoming festivities was the crowning of Princess Shari Zagor, Alpha Xi Delta, at the traditional council fire. Phyllis Faasse, Chi Omega; Ruth Helligso, Sigma Kappa, and Ellen Goeser, Zeta Tau Alpha, were her attendants. Ceremonies began with a TGIH dance in the Ouampi Room followed by a chuckwagon dinner.

Saturday's celebration of Homecoming centered around the game against Drake. Despite defeat at the hands of the Bulldogs, spirits were as high as the hundreds of balloons released at kick-off time. Early risers of the Journalism Department undertook their yearly task of blowing up and distributing the balloons. Other events of the day included the Inter-Pep competition and a tea given by members of Waakiya honoring alums.

OU Greeks began the year with a battery of song practices in preparation for the annual All Greek Sing sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon. Competition song for the mens' groups was "What Do You Do With a Drunken Sailor?" Women competed with "Imagination." Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Xi Delta won the top honors.

Members of Readers Theater presented an imaginative visit to a small Welsh seascoast town as they portrayed Dylan Thomas's "Under Milkwood" October 27-29. The words of Thomas and the readers created an atmosphere of wonder and horror using a few props and no movement. Readers Theater is under the supervision of Warren Gore, professor of speech.

The fall of '64 saw numerous guest speakers on campus. Among these were a former OU student, the son of a presidential candidate, and a fashion and beauty consultant. Sharon Erdkamp, OU graduate, spoke to students interested in the foreign service. She is a foreign service employee in Washington, D.C.

A highlight during the election season was a visit from Mike Goldwater, special guest of the Young Republicans. Arlene Dahl addressed members of the Home Ec Club about hair styles, dress modes, personal grooming and general charm tactics.

Under the direction of Bert Kurth, the men's intramural program offers an opportunity for fun, relaxation and physical development. The program is divided into three seasons and a variety of sports is designated for each. Tennis, golf, softball, archery, track and flag football are among sports on the intramural schedule each year.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration representative demonstrated space equipment for science students November 15.

Omaha University was host to Omaha area high school students for Career Day, November 21.

Six internationally-known figures visited the campus for the 19th annual World Affairs Institute. The weekly lectures, October 7 through November 18, surveyed areas relative to the theme, "The Challenge of Positive Leadership in World Affairs." Milton Lomask, author and historian, discussed "The American President as a Free World Leader." "Southeast Asia: Crucible of Communism" was the topic of Sir Muhammed Zafrulla Khan, a lawyer and judge of the International Court of Justice.

Dr. Thomas Melady, author and constant traveler in Africa spoke October 21 on "Africa: A Continuing Dilemma."

Fourth speaker for the Institute was the vice president in charge of international affairs for the Gulf Oil Corporation, Kermit Roosevelt. Roosevelt, who is special consultant to the Secretary of State on Middle Eastern Affairs, chose the topic "Middle East: Perpetual Challenge of Stability." "Red China and Southeast Asia" was discussed by Willem T. Oltman, an international reporter for U.P.I.

The final lecturer was Leonard Gross, senior editor of Look Magazine.

President Milo Bail was saluted by the presentation of "South Pacific" November 19-21. The musical, a favorite of the retiring president, included in the cast two members of the 1957 production. Mrs. Susan Ewing Perkins recreated her role as the plucky Nellie Forbush. Another returnee, Mrs. Janice Collins Brook, played the role of Bloody Mary. Other cast members were Gary Johnson, as Emile; Greg Loso, as Lt. Cable; Sherrie Rooney, Liat; and Tom Ridley as Billis. Dances were choreographed by Mrs. Karen Mullins, assistant instructor of women's P.E. and Allan Longacre, instructor of speech. Music was under the direction of Dr. James Peterson, professor of music. Dr. Edwin Clark, director of the OU theater, directed the musical.

President Milo Bail was host to an estimated 1000 persons at his 16th and final Open House. The November 15 event was opened with a concert by the University choir after which visitors toured the campus and classrooms. Faculty members were on hand to talk with students and their parents.

Brisk November afternoons found crowds gathered on the womens' athletic field as 14 intramural football squads battled for the top places. League One victors were the Zekes with a 5-0 record. The Darts topped League Two with a 6-0 standing, and a 4-0 record placed the Pi Kaps in the top rated position among the fraternities.

OU's Cross Country track team placed 4th in CIC competition and 15th in the NAIA. Outstanding lettermen on the team were Loren Drum, Pat Giddings, Ken Gould, Herb Rhoads, Gerald Shook and Bob Smiley. Ken Gould ran unbeaten in dual competition, finishing top and placing 3rd in CIC. He broke OU's 3-mile meet record with a time of 15.37 against South Dakota U. Gould broke OU's varsity record in the 4-mile with a time of 20.29 against Topeka in CIC competition.

The United Community Service fund was $2,214 richer November 6 following a week-long campaign by members of student organizations. Carol Ann Hadfield of Zeta Tau Alpha was named Cutest Pan and Larry Juul of Lambda Chi Alpha was Ugliest Man. Their organizations collected the largest amounts for UCS.

A crowd of 4,000 greeted the Serendipity Singers and the Oscar Peterson Trio. The two groups gave a concert November 6 in the Field House.

Students and art instructors submitted their talent for this art display in the student center.

A distribution of apples by members of the Student Education Association highlighted President Bail's coffee hour for members of the faculty.

The annual Tomahawk Beauty Contest resulted in the crowning of Francee Ernst as queen. First runner-up was Kristy Isaacson. Third, fourth and fifth place winners were Karen Sedoris, Mary Kay Boyd and Kathleen McGuire. The contest, held December 2 in the Eppley Conference Center Auditorium, is sponsored by the University yearbook.

"The Romancers"

"Bontche Schweig"

"A Phoenix Too Frequent"

Three one-act plays were presented December 11 in the auditorium. Bob Lane directed "The Romancers," which included in its cast Mike Moore, Gail Rowden, Jim Phillips, Keith Johnson, Jim Solomonson and Joe Schik. "Bontche Schweig," directed by Leslie Epstein, had as its principle players Nina Bieda, Maureen Borden and David Bock. "A Phoenix Too Frequent" was directed by Alice Hewitt who was assisted by players Nancy Schneiderwind, Sue Bahringer, Mike Ward and John Aresta.

Over 150 seniors were invited to Senior-Executive Day December 8. Sponsored by Omaha Rotary Club, the luncheon allowed students to visit with Omaha executives about the business world. Nick Newman, president of Hinky-Dinky Super Markets, was guest speaker for the event.

Foreign students on campus were the special guests December 10 at an annual tea sponsored by Waakiya. Students, foreign language professors and the deans of the colleges were invited to attend. The tea was held in the Conference Center.

As the campus absorbed the holiday spirit, students anticipated the glittering gaiety of parties, decorated trees and a fleeting vacation. Faculty and students decorated eight Christmas trees on campus.

Sounds of the season filled the auditorium as the University Choir, directed by John D. Miller, sang glorious tributes to the birth of Christ. The December 18th Christmas Convocation was highlighted by the presentation of the Phi Mu Alpha Christmas Carol Award. The 1964 winner was Mary Sutton for her carol, "Sing Noel." The convocation featured soloists, Daryl Taylor, Rosalie Thomas and Lawrence King.

The University Choir, under the direction of John D. Miller, sang for Dr. Bail's December 15th coffee hour. Other choir holiday activities included a Christmas recording and several caroling engagements to Omaha area institutions and organizations.

A December 3rd luncheon honored 64 recipients of Ak-Sar-Ben scholarships at OU. The scholarships were begun by Ak-Sar-Ben in September, 1960, to aid scholastically-worthy, financially-needy students in obtaining a college education. Opposite, ISA's annual day-before-vacation project allowed free parking.

Coach Jim Borsheim's Indians, who lost five players at the semester through ineligibilities and dropping from the squad, won eight of eleven games at home and two of ten on the road. Only home losses were to Chico State, NE Missouri and St. Benedict's. Only road wins were over Doane and Illinois State. Highlights of the season were wins over Nebr. Wesleyan, Doane, and Pittsburg, CIC Champion. The Indians won four home games in the CIC and lost four on the road.

Orchesis, the modern dance honorary, sponsored a workshop January 9 for persons interested in modern dance. Mrs. Norma Vrana, a Fremont, Nebraska, dancing instructor, was the guest teacher. A Relax-Before-Exams concert was given by the band in January for OU students.

Over 560 students received degrees at the mid-year commencement January 30. Dr. Milo Bail gave his farewell commencement address as well as receiving the honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree. Dean Emeritus of the College of Adult Education, Everett M. Hosman, received the honorary Doctor of Law degree.

During January, senior music majors gave music recitals for OU students in the Conference Center. On January 14, Dr. Milo Bail presented the Order of the Tower to 17 outstanding Omaha-area businessmen. With the exception of the honorary degree, this is the highest honor conferred by OU. The faculty and staff received 10 and 20-year service awards and retiring members were honored at a January 26th coffee hour.

Library rooms were crowded to capacity, the student lounge was packed, the Ouampi Room was lifeless . . . during final exam time at OU.

OU wrestlers tallied a 9-5 record for the season. Jim Fuxa, at 10-2-2 for the year, held the top position. Other top scorers were Gerald Shook, 10-4; Rich Tomasek, 9-5; Kinse Williams, 8-4; and Rick Davis, 4-1. Other starters were Tom Bell (3-2) at 123; Ken Netwig (2-4) at 147; and Tom Maides (3-4) at Heavyweight.

Registration is a busy and hectic time of the year for students as well as faculty and staff. It begins with counseling and continues through the following of numerous arrows until finally all class cards are in hand and the student is ready for the new semester.

The Ski Club finished its second year on campus in 1965. The enthusiasm for the sport was evident when 120 members participated in an excursion to Winter Park, Colorado, for skiing during semester break.

Delta Omicron sponsored its second annual musical during February. The musical potpourri included "The Telephone," "The Excursion" and "The Proposal." Cast members included Jana Doxon, Greg Loso, Billie Poulson, Rosalie Wiggins, Jerry Bryan, Kent Hanon, Wayne Wotherspoon, Mary Kay Menze, Nancy Lunsford, Dennis Giles and Daryl Taylor.

Snow blanketed the campus of the University as students had a one and a half-day vacation when the record-breaking blizzard hit February 11th. Students and faculty braved these familiar sights when returning to school Monday.

Our Chief's Looking for Indians

You may be one of the ones he's seeking. He has found many fine young men and women at Omaha University in past years to join his tribe. They were looking too—for challenging careers. Mutual of Omaha and United of Omaha offered them an opportunity to put their talents and abilities to work in salaried home offices and field representative positions. If you are interested in unlimited opportunity and are willing to accept the challenges and responsibility, our chief could be looking for you. Stop in at 3316 Farnam Street any weekday between 8 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. and let him find you.

Every Year Is a Year of Solid Growth for Guarantee Mutual

Outstanding year follows outstanding year at Guarantee Mutual Life, and each one is better than the last. New records—in life insurance in force, in surplus, in assets, and in benefits paid to beneficiaries and policy-owners—are set with every turn of the calendar.

We welcome the challenge and look forward to the opportunities in the years ahead—and we pledge ourselves to continued fine service to policy-owners and to our field organization...and to the greater profession of life and health insurance.

The Admissions Office is directed by James A. Scriven. The admission of all new students and the re-admission of former students must come through this office. Registration is handled in the Administration Building by the Registrar's Office. Virgil Sharpe is head.

Under the direction of Ronald Pullen, the Audio-Visual Department provides service for the faculty and students through distribution and evaluation of audio-visual material and equipment. Other employees of the office are Ervan D. Heinz, Delores Ericson and Mrs. Metta Marr.

The Alumni Association plans the Homecoming Dinner Dance, Awards Banquet and the Spring Fund Drive. Gordon Severa serves as president of the Association. Executive secretary, Warren O. Wittekind, is assisted in the Alumni Office by Mrs. Margaret Bush.

ALUMNI BOARD: FIRST ROW: Mrs. Richard Alberti, Thresa Clark. SECOND ROW: Warren O. Wittekind, Al Thomsen, Gordon Severa, president; Mrs. LeRoy Damhoff, John A. Jeter, Joe H. Baker, Robert C. Schropp.

The Bookstore, located in the Student Center, offers its services to students, faculty and staff. Before a new semester, there is much activity in the Bookstore as eager students sell old books and search the aisles for new ones.

BOOKSTORE STAFF: Ronald Aven, Irma Wilson, Isabel Levy, Bernard Koenig, Kathryn Swoboda, Thomas Hruska.

The Gene Eppley Conference Center is directed by Thomas Moore. The center provides continuing education services for adults of the community. A variety of conferences, institutes and short term courses are held. The office secretary is Mrs. Donna Olson.

OU students spend many hours in the library preparing for tests and term papers. But they know how to have fun . . . spending much of their time doing the Watusi, the Frug and the Monkey.

The Student Activities Committee helps to plan and supervise the many activities on campus. The committee is made up of faculty members who meet once a month. Director of student activities is William Gerbracht.

Academic Testing and Counseling provides advice and guidance to all students with doubts about their college program and future. Under the supervision of Dr. Gayle Oleson, the program also tests new students and freshmen preparing to enter the University.

The biggest task of the Business Department is handling money. Every penny that is paid to the University, from traffic tickets to tuition, is processed under the supervision of Harold Keefover, head of the department. He is assisted by Mrs. Velma Titzell, cashier. Keefover is also the controller.

Mrs. Dorothy Wille, personnel supervisor, died January 4, 1965.

The Accounting Department is a part of the Business office located in the Administration building. The department is headed by LeRoy Kozeny. He is assisted by Roger Hildreth and Robert Wolfe, pictured left.

The data processing department handles payroll, budgets, registration and permanent records with their numerous tabulating machines. Assisting B. L. Byers, head of the department, are Janice Spivey, Rita Sallazzo, Linda Arnold and Leon Schutte.

Director of Food Services is Mrs. Carol Lee Graham. This essential department provides well-balanced and efficiently planned meals for all students and personnel. Mrs. Boylan is the production assistant. Above are cashiers Mrs. Eva Bruner and Lillian Stevens, head cashier.

Informing citizens about campus events, both social and business, through news releases and photographs to the various Omaha-area media is the job of the General Printing and Information office. Under the direction of Robert McGranahan, the office employs Carolyn Richmond, McGranahan's assistant, and Norm Taylor, who furnishes the media with statistics and facts concerning OU'S intercollegiate teams.

The Bureau of Industrial Testing and Institutional Research is devoted to the administration of tests and attitude surveys for Omaha's industries and institutions. The bureau operates under the direction of Richard Nicholson, assistant professor of psychology. He is assisted by his secretary, Mrs. Kay Wallace.

The Information Office aids students and visitors who are unfamiliar with the University's layout and policies. Managing the office on the first floor of the Administration building is Mrs. Lucille Brawner.

INTRAMURAL COMMITTEE: Capt. LeRoy Holtz, Bert Kurth, chairman; Dian Peterson and Ivan Christiansen.

The Intramural Program provides OU men with an opportunity for sports participation throughout the year. Supervised by Bert Kurth and his committee, the program includes track, tennis, golf, softball, football, archery, basketball, wrestling and volleyball.

The financial side of the many student activities is handled by Student Activities Business Manager Ivan Christiansen. He is in charge of bringing entertainment to the campus and also handles ticket sales.

The PBX is the center of campus communications. Head of the department is Mrs. Corrada Huntington.

LIBRARY STAFF: Miss Ellen Lord, head librarian; Ray Means, Vern Haselwood, Miss Ella Dougherty, M. R. McCaulley, Miss Nila Corkill.

Keeping walks shoveled, parking meters repaired and the buildings spruced up is the job of the Physical Plant. Clarence Lefler is the head of the department.

In charge of all buying for the University is the Purchasing Department, headed by Jim Ochsner. Assisting him are Mrs. Shirley Jespersion, Mrs. Naomi Brochtrup and Joe Pecha.

Ruby Hoag is director of the University Post Office which handles all incoming and outgoing mail. Her assistants are Tom Toth, Ray Harris and Duane Alff.

The Student Center personnel aids the smooth operations of the Student Center. The information booth on the first floor of the Center is kept busy throughout the day with checking out pool tables, bowling alleys and cards. Watching over the OUampi room, cafeteria and other areas of the Center is also a task of the personnel that insures pleasant surroundings for the students and faculty.

The Stenographic Bureau produces all of the University's printed matter—from class schedules to final exams. The director is John Pearson. He is assisted by Dorothy Nimrod.

The Student Health provides emergency medical treatment for students, faculty and staff. The responsibilities of the office belong to registered nurse, Ruth Eichhorn, who is on campus full time. G. M. McCardle, M.D., is on campus two days a week.

The Student Personnel office is available to the student who seeks counseling, information or must pay traffic tickets. Donald Pflasterer is the dean of student personnel. He is assisted by Elizabeth Hill, associate dean of student personnel.

The Student Personnel Deans have two office locations. Department secretaries in the Administration building office are Mrs. Eunice Rowlands and Mrs. Beth Roberts. Mrs. Ruth Olson and Mrs. Arlene Stanley are the office secretaries in the Milo Bail Student Center.

Students looking for part time jobs are frequent visitors of the Student Placement Office. Mrs. Yvonne Harsh, assistant instructor of teacher education, heads the office. She is assisted by Mrs. Lenore Plymate.

Omaha University Regents meet monthly to discuss policies.

Omaha University's president as of February 1, Dr. Leland Traywick, was welcomed to the campus with a barrage of news conferences, luncheons, teas, dinners and coffee hours. "I want to work with one thing firmly in mind—to help Omaha University to continue to move ahead and grow," said Dr. Traywick as he revealed his present administrative stand at his first official news conference as president. Among the events sponsored by his university colleagues were meetings with faculty, staff, alumni, the Student Council, the Administrative Council and members of the news media. At the Third Annual All-Industry Luncheon February 15, Dr. Traywick stated this educational philosophy: "One's learning never really ceases, and a chance to broaden and deepen one's education and skills is not only just money in the bank but it is most importantly a satisfactory life—a job well done, something of which you can be proud—and this I submit is the greatest of all satisfactions."

In 1948 he came to our campus. This year, 1965, he left—a campus greatly expanded with an enrollment greatly increased. His list of honors and accomplishments is long. His mark on the campus is permanent. In recognition and in appreciation for his work for this University, this '65 TOMAHAWK is dedicated to the president, the administrator, the man—DR. MILO BAIL.

Students grew to expect to see him often. Through his constant attendance and his active support of sports, the teams and their activities, they came to know him well.

Students shared the moments of hope, the joyous moments of victory and the moments of disappointments. They shared in the growth and accomplishments of the University.

COMMUNITY LEADERS

His has been many roles. As a leader in the community, an outstanding citizen of Omaha, the people of the city also came to know him. And in appreciation for his work, they gave him their highest honor—King LXI of Ak-Sar-Ben.

When Dr. Bail came to OU, there was one building—the Administration Building. Today, in addition, there are four others. Other additions to his credit are two colleges, a dynamic adult education program and the Air Force ROTC unit. With his help, the University's physical growth has brought about a corresponding growth in prestige in the community, the state and the nation.

Seventeen years of growth . . . these years of growth have included the Applied Arts Building, the Student Center, the Gene Eppley Library and the Field House. But behind these physical tributes to Dr. Bail have gone hours of work, discussions and contemplation. Speeches, opening additions, increased enrollments and increased faculty are further marks of the progress he has brought to the campus.

YEARS OF GROWTH

TELE LECTURE

To the OU student, Dr. Bail personifies the two concepts of his education—the formal and the informal. His presence at games and activities emphasizes the importance of these programs in man's "social" education. And his presence in academic robe at commencement illustrates the more important aspect—learning.

With his secretary, Mrs. Hazel Spangler, helping keep track of appointments, Dr. Bail spent the last few months attending luncheons and other events honoring his work at OU. Gifts ranged from $10,000 from Omahans for a trip around the world to an Indian bonnet.

His last days at OU were filled with many tributes. Convocations and the renaming of the Student Center were only a few. Universities—OU and Creighton—conferred their highest award—honorary degrees. Although now retired, Dr. Bail, as president emeritus, continues to support higher education.
